“ The first time I met Ms. Carter, she made me fresh lemonade. I'll never forget it, nor her graciousness to me that day. After she became Mother Carter to me, I would always thank her for raising such a fine man, her oldest son Thomas, who became my sweet husband and a loving dad to our daughter. I've always valued women who are good mothers, and Mother Carter has my highest respect because she reared so many kind and sweet children!
