“ This is so hard to write. I remember so vividly you coming to live with us. A tween who wanted to belong, be part of it all. You wanted to learn, and yet be your age. We use to laugh when you got grounded because my punishment was you had to cook or do dishes. You always-always chose to cook. So, we would be in the kitchen coming up with different things you can cook for a family. Your favorite: Beef roast and vegetables. I don't want to say you were grounded allot let us just say you became very-very good at it. I always loved your good humor as a child and as an adult. I loved that you would call me at the random times and we talked about different parts of life you were pondering about. I loved you then and will always remember my place in your life. Mama Toni
