

Ms. Ronda Janeene Johnson

July 28, 1963 - January 23, 2017

Ronda Janeene Johnson born July 28, 1963 in Ft. Myers, Florida, passed away January 23, 2017 in Denton, TX. Cremation is under the direction of Denton Funeral Home.

Tribute Wall

FR

“ Met Ronda through Facebook. Our battle with cancer is what brought us together. My thoughts and prayers are with her family and friends during this time of grieving. May God shine His light upon you and send his angels to comfort you.

Francesca - March 13, 2017 at 12:45 PM

“ Ronda was a dear friend of mine through facebook and through our dogs, Yodi and Kobe Joe. I am so grateful for the weekend we all had together when Ronda and Yodi came to Michigan to stay with our family. Ronda was one of the strongest women I have ever met. No matter what was sent her way, she held her head high and kept moving forward. She was an inspiration for many of us. She will always be in my heart and I will cherish our memories forever. You will be missed by many my dear friend, I will always love you and Kobe Joe loves his mama Ronda.

Lindsay Gamble - January 28, 2017 at 10:34 AM

JL

“ Ronda was my friend on Facebook for 3 years and I consider the day we connected a blessing that made my life better for having her in it. When I met her online, she and my sister were both recovering from cancer, but we were feeling quite defeated and lost and did not know how to survive this ordeal. I found Ronda to be so strong and inspirational that I wanted my sister to get in touch so she could benefit from Ronda's amazing strength and positive attitude and wealth of knowledge. I knew from the moment I discovered her that she was good medicine for the mind and spirit. As I learned more about her over the last few years, following her ups and downs, I truly felt we had so much in common. She was like a big sister to me and I am sure a lot of people felt the same because she was the kindest person who would hold your hand when you needed it, or pull you up when you were down. She was such a beacon of light, a true and compassionate person. She was a real woman, and even though we never got that hug and kiss that sisters always do, she let me know that our friendship would endure the test of time and beyond. She valued her family and her friends and her pets and she shared her life and her heart with us. Although I am aware she had some really tough times, she never gave up and always bounced back with vigor. To the outside world, her story might sound as if she was some sort of a victim of circumstances. But, to those of us who knew her, she was no victim. Ronda was a hero of her own life story, she was a winner and she never let me doubt that. She was a mentor and I will truly miss my dear friend. To her family, I am so sorry for your loss as I know she has left a giant empty space that is very painful to your heart. May her faith continue to inspire you and bring you peace. She would want you to think of how she is rejoicing as her soul has been redeemed and her eternal life of glory has just begun.

Jody Lore - January 26, 2017 at 11:21 PM

DH

“ Sweet and strong lady. You set your face on things ahead, not letting the trials of life take the wind out of your sails! While I cry over your death, I rejoice also that your hope is fulfilled and God made a place for you. For your family, may good times and laughter override the memories of illness and pain.

Donne Hamilton - January 26, 2017 at 03:21 PM

KA

“ My sweet Ronda where do I begin. We didn't live close to each other but I always felt close to you since our birthdays are only 2 days apart with you being the oldest which I would tease you about. I always felt closer to you than all the other cousins for that reason and that our Moms were sisters. That was a special bond.

I know you have fought a hard fight with grace and dignity. You have always been optimistic but I know this weighed heavy on you. I know when it came time to let your babies, Yodi and Paris, go to another home that it must have broken your heart. I know that you prepared for that and that you knew they would be well taken care of and loved.

I know that right now you are surrounded by family that have missed you and they welcomed you with open arms. You are in the presence of the Almighty Father and you no longer suffer. One day I will meet you there. We will have a lot to catch up on.

My heart is sad but also joyous in the fact that you got your angel wings and crown.

To Nick and David, I love you both and you are in my prayers and thoughts for the days ahead.

Love, Karmelin

Karmelin Evans Arant - January 25, 2017 at 01:14 PM

BO

“ I Praise God that he allowed me to walk by Ronda Redeemed's side during this journey, from the first step to the last. We prayed, laughed, cried, hugged, talked and just sat silently together at times, but we agreed to never allowed sadness. I will be forever changed by the experience. She fought the good fight, finished the race, and kept the faith. Love to you all, Bonnie

Bonnie - January 25, 2017 at 11:10 AM

JH

I only met Ronda once, but we became Facebook friends. I feel like she was a true friend because of my sister, Bonnie. I know how much she loved Ronda. I am sending our sympathies to you, her family and am asking Gods peace to rest on all of you. Richard and Janice Hemmingsen

Janice Hemmingsen - January 25, 2017 at 12:29 PM

 Dawn Sendziak

Ronda was an amazing, down to earth, woman of faith. Her strength was truly fierce and formidable. She fought admirably and is now with the King. I will see you again my sweet sweet friend.

Dawn Sendziak - January 25, 2017 at 02:22 PM

KB

Ronda, you were an inspiration to me. We only knew each other through Facebook but you had a great impact on my life. I look forward to seeing you again someday in heaven, sister in Christ.

Kim Brewer - January 26, 2017 at 08:26 AM

Like some of you, I met Ronda on Facebook through her little girl, Yodi, back in 2013. I saw a picture on Yodi page. She was wearing the cutest red hat with a pom pom along with wearing a red coat and boots. Living in the north country of Harbor Springs, MI, in my comment I asked her where she got the hat as I wanted one for my Weechee. It looked warm and had Velcro instead of ties. She answered that she got it at Petco (if I remember right). I immediately went online and found out they only sell them in stores. We don't have a Petco up here. Ronda and I continued to message one another in that she said she liked to go shopping and would pick up one in blue and asked what size, etc. and she would send it to me providing she could find one. I asked her to make sure to send me the cost plus shipping and also for her paypal account number. A few days went by and she still hadn't answered me about paypal so I figured, she must not have found the hat....UNTIL....a few days later, the package was in my mailbox. Again, I messaged her about payment etc....a few times.. and she finally answered saying "friendship is enough." It shows there are thoughtful people out there, Ronda being one of them. Now one journey is over and a whole new one has begun for her. My best wishes for great memories to her family and friends. This one's mine. May God Bless You All! ~ Sandy Vander Weele

Sandy Vander Weele - January 26, 2017 at 08:49 AM

PA

I just came to know Ronda toward the end of her journey. I am shocked coming here and seeing she was so young. She always had the sweetest things to say about her friends and they were always a top concern of hers. The last time our paths crossed was on New Year's Eve. Never wanting to be a burden she was watching the Hallmark Channel and got me turned on to it. I can still hear your sweet voice. Truly God's angel.

Pam - March 12, 2017 at 11:16 PM